From the President's desk

Dear members,

Please join me in extending heartfelt condolences to the Prime Minister of Malaysia, Ahmad Abdullah Badawi on the loss of his beloved wife, Endon Mahmood who recently passed away due to breast cancer. Our thoughts, wishes and prayers are with the Prime Minister and his family during this difficult time.

To begin with, I want to thank everyone who attended and made the AGM 2005 another successful event. My appreciation also goes to all volunteers who worked hard to ensure that the AGM went smoothly. The new committee now consists of six members in total, including myself.

Once again, I'd like to thank the committee members of 2004-2005 for doing such a great job. It is the dedication and hard work of these individuals that led MSBCA-Calgary through another eventful year.

Due to the handover in editorial responsibilities, this issue of the newsletter is late, and we apologize for this. A big "thank you" to our outgoing editors who took on the task of improving communications within the club – their efforts and hard work in setting up the new website is much appreciated.

Of course, we must also not forget the previous editors whose initial efforts laid the foundation and nurtured this publication to what it is today. We welcome George Heng, who'll be taking over as our new editor this year.

As you may be aware, we're conducting Martial Arts and Tai Chi classes on Sundays, thanks to instructor Tan Chin Hock who has graciously volunteered his time to help members improve their overall health and wellbeing. And on Fridays, the folk dance group holds practices at the clubhouse – putting our new dance floor and mirrored walls to good use.

The formation of the cultural group, led by Daniel Sario, Tina Hoang and Sonia Rozario is another positive step in promoting and preserving Southeast Asian culture. The cultural dance group participated in the fundraising dinner organized by the Calgary Reaches Out committee led by MLA Wayne Cao.

Calgary Reaches Out is a registered Non-Profit Volunteer Organization that represents a mosaic of caring Calgarians, individuals, cultural groups and community associations – united and committed to providing support to victims of global disasters.

The most recent fundraising event on 12 November was a great success, and will be featured in the next issue of the newsletter.

The proceeds will be equally divided amongst the victims of the South Asian earthquake and Hurricane Katrina in the southern US. There'll also be a silent auction and karaoke fundraising.

Some upcoming events include the children's Christmas party, which will be held at the clubhouse on December 17th; a New Year's Eve party scheduled for December 31st, and a Chinese New Year's Dinner planned for February 4th 2006, at the Treasures of China Restaurant. Details of all events will be announced in upcoming newsletters.

In closing, I'd like to once again thank all members, family members, and friends who got me into this "hot seat" for another year. I will try my very best to cool the seat down a little before the next President takes over.

Khin Chew

Thank you to all volunteers and participants of Calgary Reaches Out — it was a great success!

Editorial

Greetings!

Most of you were probably wondering if this issue was ever going to be published...

Unfortunately, you're receiving this a lot later than originally planned but this does happen from time to time.

As the new editor, I will try my best to ensure that future issues are produced in a more timely fashion.

You'll also notice that the layout of the newsletter has been changed; due to human limitations (mine, I'm afraid), I've had to re-design the newsletter from scratch, using software that I'm more familiar with.

Please bear with me as the layout is refined and improved over time.

Although it's a little early for New Year's resolutions, I've also decided to set 3 goals for myself: first, to make the newsletter more useful and interesting to read; second, to maintain a high editorial standard; and third, to develop the newsletter into a more effective marketing tool for the club. Wish me luck; I'm going to need it...

Seriously though, with the support of the new committee, and indeed, the active participation and cooperation of all members, I believe it can be done.

"Many hands make light work" or so the old saying goes; something I'm certain any Singaporean male who's completed National Service will attest to.

Down the line, it is my hope that you'll find the revamped newsletter more informative, useful, and perhaps even insightful.

There are many changes in store but at the end of the day, the success of these ideas will largely depend on member participation and interaction.

Feel free to drop me a line anytime by email or phone to discuss how you can contribute and participate in this process.

At the end of the day, we may be a non-profit organization, but that's no reason not to do things professionally, responsibly and mindfully.

Remember — this is your newsletter: it can be as interesting, entertaining and useful as you want it to be.

On that note, I'll end my first editorial here — there's a lot to do, so let's get started!

George Heng
Editor

A word from your secretary — AGM 2005

This report on our AGM held on Oct 8 at the MSBCA Clubhouse is a long time coming – our sincere apologies.

Thanks to all who managed to squeeze time from your busy schedule to attend the AGM and a big congratulations to all the Grade 6, 9 & 12 students for your stellar achievements. If I may leave with you a message: aim higher and always do your best!

I'd like to give credit to the past committee members for doing such a fine job in keeping us financially on track, maintaining & improving the atmosphere in our clubhouse, planning our social activities and creating a strong membership base.

As mentioned many times, our "pillars" of success rely on strong leadership, financial stability, healthy activities & a solid membership base. Let's all cooperate and work towards our common goals and values as stipulated in our bylaws.

A major objective for the AGM was to obtain feedback from members about our new proposed bylaws. The bylaws of an organization are critical as they help us operate in a responsible, professional manner, ensuring that integrity in our association is maintained.

We feel there is a need to extend our existing bylaws, but also agree that there are still areas that need fine-tuning.

Thanks for your patience and for approving the newly revised bylaws during the AGM. Please watch for an announcement in our newsletter where we will invite members to a bylaw-understanding session.

The last major item of the AGM was of course the election. Every year the committee strives to recruit nominees for the executive positions prior to the AGM. And every year like all other volunteer organizations we struggle to find candidates.

The size of our community makes our situation even more challenging. The night ended with 4 elected positions i.e. Khin Chew as President, Kai Loo as VP Malaysia, myself as Secretary and Peter Tan as Social Director.

I also want to mention that during our 1st committee meeting on Oct 18, our past Treasurer (Jennie Soo) and VP Singapore (Geraldine Sng) volunteered to continue their duties in their respective roles.

This brings us to a total of 6 committee members for 2006, and we are looking forward to the upcoming year's activities with anticipation & enthusiasm. I would greatly appreciate it if you can convey your best wishes to the above people when you next meet them.

Last but not least I would like to extend my special thanks to both Rachel Wong & Tracey Bong for doing a fine job on our newsletter and especially for their efforts in building our website.

Yours truly,
Jesse Cheah

Tropical Impressions— by Heather Thompson

I had wanted to go to Malaysia ever since the '80's when I had spent a year traveling across Asia with my sister and had run out of time before getting there.

So when my hubby showed an interest in the Formula 1 race in Kuala Lumpur last year I enthusiastically agreed and started planning. We had settled on five weeks for the trip thinking that would be lots of time.

After talking to friends familiar with the country we soon realized that it was not nearly enough! The hardest part of planning was deciding what we would have to miss.

Our flight over with MAS was great. Wonderful service, very good food and best of all, the flight was empty enough that we could lie down across several seats to nap! Still, it was 33 hours in total from home until leaving the airport in Penang and we were very tired.

As we stepped out from the terminal we were hit by the heat and light. The sun was so intense! We started to wilt immediately. After being dropped at our hotel by a friendly and talkative taxi driver we ventured out for a short ½ hour walk. It got us just as far as the first air-conditioned mall.

After checking out every store, we came to the conclusion that Malaysian women certainly love their shoes and had our first Malaysian meal at the food fair before staggering back to our hotel for a long nap. We had finally arrived!

The days we spent in Penang proceeded at a very leisurely pace as we tried to get used to the heat. We visited the temples and historical sites, gardens and of course Penang Hill. Everywhere we met friendly, hospitable people and gradually we got more and more adventurous with the spicy food.

One of the first things that strike people from a temperate climate when they arrive in the tropics is the lush growth around you. The second thing is the accelerated pace of decay! It is mind-boggling how much work must be involved in keeping those buildings looking clean and white as everywhere streaks of mildew advance down building walls.

We were struck by the amount of industry and growth we saw and our first impression was that things were going well here. Everywhere we saw evidence of a thriving middle class.

We learned things from taxi drivers that were not in any of the books we had read, such as there are different schools for Malay, Chinese or Indian children. It seems like a complicated system but other than talking with taxi drivers and tour guides we did not get a chance to learn more about it.

From Penang we headed south to our hotel near the F1 track in Sepang. Things were well organized and the track was great. It is a very attractive facility and very well laid out for spectators allowing excellent views of large portions of the track at one time.

Friday and Saturday there were very few spectators and even on race day the place was not packed. (The 39° temperature may have had something to do with that!)

Gary immediately decided to go home and write an article for the local sports car club newsletter encouraging everyone to visit. He has been to many F1 races and was very impressed by the way this one was set up.

After the races we spent the next two weeks touring around the peninsula...

Stay tuned for the conclusion in the next issue... Ed.
